

NEW YORK POST

LATE CITY FINAL

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2008

STILL LIFE

Along with his brother David, filmmaker Albert Maysles made 20 classic documentaries over the past half-century, including the odd tale of Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy Onassis' reclusive aunt and cousin in "Grey Gardens" (pictured), and the Rolling Stones' frantic rockumentary "Gimme Shelter." David has long since died, but from 6 to 8 tonight Albert will be signing copies of a new book detailing the pair's work titled "A Maysles Scrapbook: Photographs/Cinemagraphs/Documents." The signing kicks off a monthlong exhibition featuring nearly 100 of Albert's photos and more through March 15 at Steven Kasher Gallery, 521 W. 23rd St., second floor; (212) 966-3978.

FEBRUARY 15

photos

WEEKEND HOT PICKS IN ENTERTAINMENT