WHAT'S UP THIS WEEK IN CHARLOTTE'S VISUAL ARTS?

October 18, 2017

We highly recommend a stop at New Gallery of Modern Art, which will be hosting an exhibition with work by Marcus Kenney and Phyllis Galembo. Kenney's assemblage sculptures are "fanciful works of Southern Gothic, folk art" (think updated, jazzy Rauschenberg) and Galembo's photographs are portraits of subjects in ritualistic costume. A sampling of her Mexico series is presented in conjunction with the ongoing "In Focus/Enfoque: Contemporary Photography in Mexico" series.
